

Christo and Jeanne-Claude

Who are they?

Christo and Jean-Claude were a married couple who worked together to make large pieces of work that confuses people and encourages them to ask questions.

What do their designs feature?

They change objects, famous buildings or places, very often by wrapping them up in fabric. This made them look very different and it made who looked at them ask what was underneath.

Some interesting facts are...

They were born on the same day in the same year but in different countries. They never went on an aeroplane together.

Assessment Questions

1. What did Christo and Jeanne-Claude change?
2. What did they cover things with?
3. What is special about their birthdays?
4. How could you make buildings the same way as Christo and Jeanne-Claude?
5. What do you think of Christo and Jeanne-Claude's work? Why?

